
Digital Aura Photo & Analysis

Unicorn Systemz

Introduction

This document is to give more information about the Aura Photo & Analysis System.

It was designed and developed by Unicorn Systemz, circa 2010, to create and sell aura photos as a digital printout, at venues such as psychic fairs, markets, etc.

The reports, now (2025), sell anywhere from €20 - €45, depending on the venue, and an additional stream of income can be had by having a psychic do a personal reading for each customer purchasing an aura photo. This can generate an extra €10 - €20 per photo, with the psychic receiving, on average, 50% of the reading fee.

About the auras

The aura is the energy field surrounding all living things and appears to mediums and those with clairvoyant vision, as a multi-color fibrous light that depicts our life force. This emanation surrounds us and extends, on average, about a meter / yard in all directions around our body. The colors of the aura are a good indicator of our moods, health, and spirituality. The aura contains all the colors of the rainbow and flows and moves with us, changing color with our moods, feelings, and spiritual conditions.

You must keep in mind that the colors seen in the photo are representative of the frequencies of the energy fields detected by the aura camera.

The product

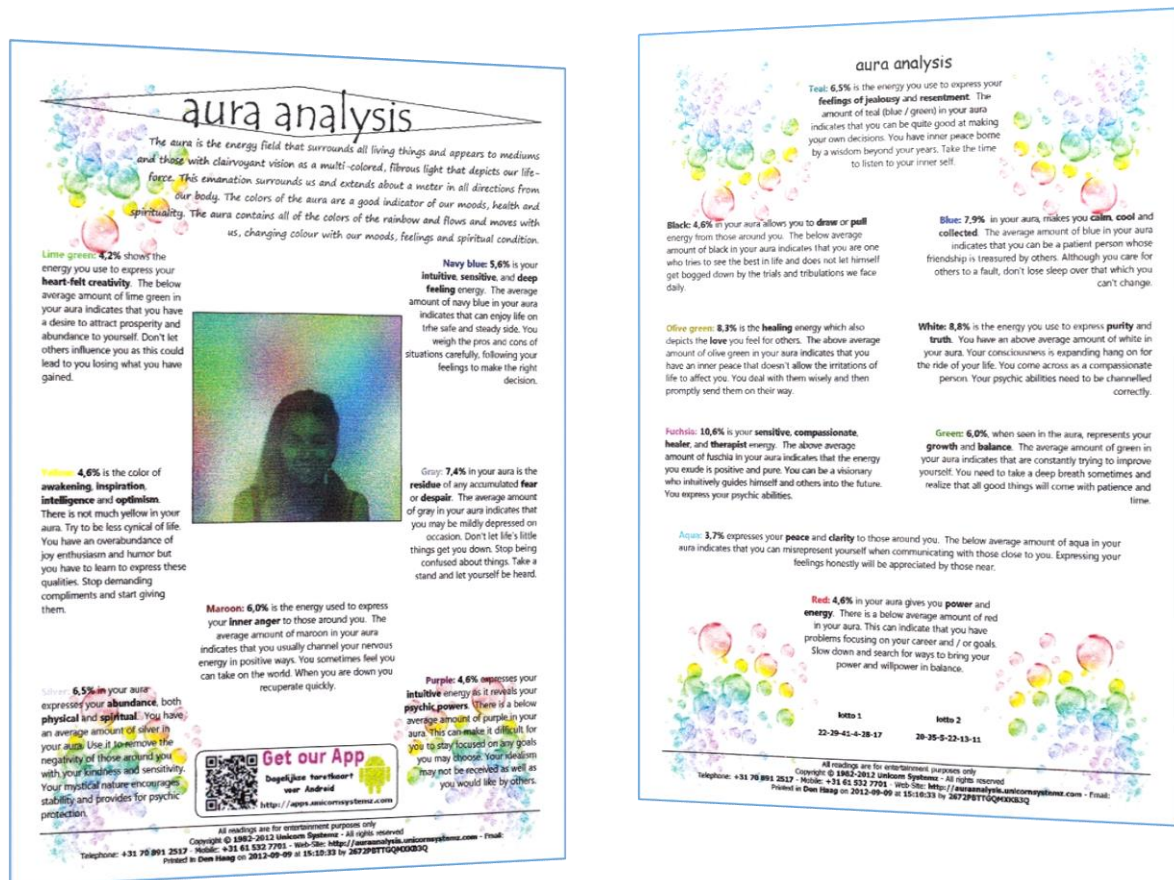

The printout consists of an aura photo surrounded by a list of the colors found in the photo, the percentage of each color, and an interpretation of what each color means in the customer's aura, based on the percentage of each color in the aura. An average amount of color is a value of 6.25%.

The strength of each color is divided into 5 regions: very little, below average, average, above average, and lots. The interpretation of each color is based on what percentage the software calculates, and this is what is printed out.

In total there are 16 colors or frequencies measured and interpreted and this makes the printout double-sided.

Once printed the sheet of paper is laminated in a plastic sleeve to protect from any damage that could occur to it, including folding by the customer, water damage, age discoloration, etc. It is also apparent that people are happy the product is (almost) indestructible as many people bring their photo back when they come to get a new one made so it is easier to compare where they were and see where they are now, and essentially where they are going.

is double-sided and then laminated so that the customer can even take it home when it is raining

See Appendix A for a full size (A4) of the above sample.

How it works

A modified digital camera takes a picture of the customer. The data sent to the computer is interpreted by the aura analysis software and a double-sided printout as shown above is created. This report is then sent to the color laser printer and after printing, it's laminated and given to the customer.

Even though the sample printouts are shown in English, all the reports are also available in Dutch, French, German, Spanish, Portuguese, Italian, Greek and Indonesian. Should you require them in a language not listed, let us know.

What is required

This section is divided into two areas.

1. The first one is the software and hardware that we supply.
2. The second one is all the other stuff that you are responsible for.

What we supply

We supply the aura camera and the necessary software.

1. The aura camera:
 - a. is a modified digital camera,
 - b. which takes a picture of the customer,
 - c. sends that information to
2. The software:
 - a. which analyses the data stream to make the aura photo,
 - b. then prints the photo and the interpretation,
 - c. on the installed Windows color printer.
3. The software:
 - a. manages the aura licenses on a per photo basis, and
 - b. manages the options available to itself.

What you provide

Readily available hardware

1. A laptop computer with at least 3 USB ports. (One for the mouse, one for the laser printer and one for the camera). DO NOT USE a USB hub as at best they work intermittently.
2. A color laser printer. (We use a Xerox Phaser 6000 – inexpensive to purchase and use) The quality of inkjets is not good enough to print out the photos and they are VERY expensive to use.)
3. A tripod to hold the camera.
4. A lamination machine (to laminate the finished product)
5. Lamination pouches.

Optional

1. An extra flat screen or monitor that can be placed outside of the tent so that passing “potential” customers can have a good look at what you are selling.
2. 2-to-3-meter cable to connect the above flat screen or monitor to your laptop.

Signage and other promotional materials

1. We can supply you with digital copies of most of the signs (pricing, etc.) that you would require to sell your aura photos and other services (readings, etc.) free of charge.
2. We can also supply you with digital copies of roll banners, wall banners, etc. You can take them to a local printer and have them printed there.
3. A party tent.
